

Kettering Bituminous Products was established in 1989 to serve the local flat roofing and road surfacing industries with quality materials and products sourced from manufacturers throughout the UK and Europe. As a local independent merchant our customer base has grown to a national level through providing an exceptional level of service that is unrivalled within the industry.

We offer an efficient next day delivery service with the added advantage due to our early opening hours and flexibility we can be on site at a time that suits you reducing your working down time waiting for materials. With our varied delivery vehicles we are able to accommodate all material orders from single units to multi-pallets. Our early opening hours enables orders taken first thing in the morning to be delivered same day if so required, together with allowing amendments to previous orders prior to delivery.

Through years of listening to our customer's demands we believe we have sourced the right products to offer an extensive range to satisfy every requirement from traditional built up felt roof systems to single ply systems incorporating any insulation requirements. For the civil engineering industry we hold various forms of bitumen solutions and sealants together with any boiler or cauldron requirements.
